Cookie Policy

SiteVector (ABN 34 124 561 993), a sole trader registered in Victoria, Australia

1. Overview

This Cookie Policy explains how SiteVector uses cookies and similar technologies across two distinct properties, which are treated differently:

- The SiteVector platform (the web application). Essential cookies and local browser storage only. No analytics, no advertising.
- The SiteVector website at sitevector.com.au. Essential cookies plus Google Analytics, so we can understand how visitors find and use the site.

We do not use advertising, retargeting or profiling cookies anywhere.

2. What Cookies and Local Storage Are

Cookies are small text files stored on your device by your browser when you visit a website or use a web application. They are widely used to make sites function correctly and to manage signed-in sessions.

Local storage is a related browser technology that allows an application to store small amounts of information on your device between visits. SiteVector uses it to remember your selected project and display preferences, and to hold a copy of the application and recently viewed project data so the platform still opens and displays where site reception is poor.

3. What We Use on the Platform

Essential only, strictly necessary for the application to function

Type	Purpose	Duration
Authentication and session tokens	Keeps you signed in as you move between pages. Without these you would need to log in on every page. Issued and validated by our authentication provider.	Session, and refresh tokens until sign-out or expiry
Preference storage	Remembers your currently selected project and display preferences so the platform opens where you left off.	Until cleared
Offline and caching storage	Stores the application and recently viewed project data so the platform still opens and displays previously loaded records where site reception is poor.	Until cleared or replaced

These are strictly necessary for the platform to operate and cannot be disabled while continuing to use it. Clearing them will sign you out and reset your preferences.

4. What We Use on the Website

Essential cookies plus Google Analytics

Our website at sitevector.com.au uses Google Analytics to understand how visitors find and navigate the site, including which pages are visited and how visitors move between them. This helps us improve the website.

Google Analytics sets cookies on your device for this purpose, and website usage data is processed by Google, including outside Australia. You can read how Google uses this data at policies.google.com/privacy.

Google Analytics is used on the public website only. It is not used inside the SiteVector platform. Your project data, site records and photographs are never processed by any analytics service.

5. What We Do Not Use

SiteVector does not use:

- Advertising or retargeting cookies
- Social media tracking pixels
- Cross-site tracking or profiling of individuals
- Any analytics service inside the platform itself
- Cookies that sell or share personal information with data brokers

6. Managing Cookies

You can control or delete cookies through your browser settings, and you can clear site data at any time. Most browsers also allow you to block cookies from specific sites.

You may opt out of Google Analytics across all websites using the Google Analytics Opt-out Browser Add-on available from Google.

Blocking or clearing essential cookies and local storage will sign you out of the platform, reset your preferences, and may prevent the platform from working correctly.

7. Changes and Contact

We may update this Cookie Policy from time to time. The version number and date at the front of this document indicate the current revision. This Policy should be read together with our Privacy Policy.
